

Backing our Candidates Financially

JStreetPAC raised over $2.4 million for its 2014 endorsees, the most in history by a pro-Israel PAC. The PAC was responsible for nearly 40% of funds raised for candidates by pro-Israel PACs during the course of the election cycle and raised an average of over $190,000 in the key Senate battlegrounds of New Hampshire, Georgia, Colorado and Iowa.

Promoting our Champions' Support for Diplomacy

J Street harnessed its organizational resources to educate voters about endorsees' principled advocacy on behalf of Middle East diplomacy. As part of this effort, mail was sent to thousands of New Hampshire and Iowa voters, highlighting Jeanne Shaheen's and Bruce Braley's national security credentials.

In New Hampshire and Iowa, JStreetPAC sent out mail that educated voters about endorsees Jeanne Shaheen and Bruce Braley's efforts to promote principled diplomacy in the Middle East.

Getting out the Vote

J Street activated its members to volunteer on campaigns across the country. In addition, J Street field staff embedded in five endorsees' campaigns during the final weeks of the election cycle — helping some of our strongest allies in competitive races successfully turn out their voters in the homestretch.
